EXCAVATION FOR SWIMMING POOL IS FINISHED HERE

Pouring of Concrete
Will Be Commenced
As Weather Permits

Major excavating work for West Liberty's 40x80-foot public swimming pool was completed Tuesday and a 6-inch tile drain line has been laid from the pool to Long Branch.

The Licking River Limestone Company did the excavating on Monday and Tuesday. Using a crane and drag line, operated by Steward Johnson, they completed the digging in 16½ hours. This included both the hole and the drain line ditch.

Workmen now are engaged in finishing the excavation by hand to get it ready for pouring concrete.

Steel for reinforcing the concrete floor and sides has been ordered and should be received in about a week, James M. Perry of the West Liberty Lumber Co., contractors, said Thursday.

Meanwhile, workmen will have the project ready for pouring concrete as soon as weather permits.

Solicitation of money to construct the pool on the public playground was started last summer by the Kiwanis Club and $5,500 has been raised.

Additional money will be raised this spring by a series of community events sponsored by the various groups. Included are a minstrel to be put on by Kiwanis and businessmen and a May Day Carnival to be staged at the high school by women of all the town and grade teachers.

The pool, according to present plans, will be constructed and ready for use this summer.

It will be operated from money received from admission charges.

The pool not only will be available for townpeople but to all of Morgan county and to people of nearby towns.

Morgan Blue Devils Take District Title In 69-56 Win Over Salyersville

By Rudy Franklin

Morgan County's Blue Devils ended all controversy on the 60th district net tourney here Saturday night as the team in blue rang up a booming 69-56 victory over Salyersville's highly regarded Hornets in the final match of this year's meet.

The Devils, who gained the finals after barely escaping defeat by Oil Springs the preceding night, took the lead early during the second stanza and never relinquished it again as they registered their second straight victory over the Hornets.

The Salyersville crew, on the strength of Collinsworth's seven point output took command early in the first quarter and ran their lead to 11-7 as the initial quarter elapsed. During the second quarter, however, the local Devils fought back to outscore Coach Leonard Marshall's quint by 25-10 and hence take an 11-point 22-21 advantage at the halfway mark. From the third quarter a red hot scoring battle emerged, with Salyersville biting into the Morgan lead, cutting it to a mere 44-39 margin.

During the final period, three of the five Salyersville starters were forced to leave the fray via the foul route. Among these was their star performer and high scorer, Collinsworth.

The Morgan cagers had no trouble outscoring the weakened Magoffin lads from there on as they walked to a 69-56 triumph and their first championship since the '51-'52 tourney.

A considerable portion of the Devil win must be attributed to the spectacular backboard control of center Thornton Hill and forward Earl May, Jr. Hill and May scored scoring honors, each bucketing 13 markers. Lincoln Collinsworth spearheaded the Salyersville drive, tossing through 32 counters.

The Morgan team gained the final round after barely escaping with a last-second 50-48 victory the preceding night over a spirited and determined Oil Springs five.

The game, which required an overtime period to settle, is regarded as one of the most exciting and is said to have possessed one of the most dramatic endings ever seen on the Morgan hardwood. Morgan gained a large lead during the first part of the contest but Oil Springs, using ball control tactics, cut it steadily and knotted the count at 42-all as the game ended.

During the overtime, the Wildcats continued their possession-type ball and gained a two-point advantage which they held until nine seconds remained in the contest. Then came Morgan's big break. May was fouled in mid-floor and being in the final three minutes of the game, received two free throws. May's first toss fell short and bounced off the rim. His second try found the mark and left the Morgan team trailing 48-47. Salyers put the ball in play for Oil Springs, tossing it in to his teammate, Bradley. If the Wildcats could only hold the ball for the remaining nine seconds, victory would be theirs. Bradley was immediately double-teamed by May and McKenzie. Being unable to pass the excited forward gave the ball a desperate flip up the floor in a vain effort to get it to a Wildcat teammate. Morgan's Stacy intercepted the pass and with four seconds remaining, arched a high set shot. The ball bounced off the rim and into the eager hands of another Devil, Fred Blair. Then, without pausing, Blair quickly flipped the ball back up toward the hungry Morgan goal. The final gun sounded while the ball was in mid-air and in seemingly acknowledgement of the fact that the outcome depended upon it, the brown sphere calmly fell into the waiting net. Blair was awarded a free toss in addition and after sinking it, the final score read, Morgan County 50, Oil Springs 48. May was high scorer for Morgan with 12, and Salyers led the losers, netting 22.

Salyersville had gained the finals the preceding night by whipping Ezel 71-48.

Due to the fact that the judges could not decide between the tenth and eleventh men, this year's all-tourney team includes eleven men. Morgan County and Oil Springs dominated the squad, each placing three players. Salyersville and Sandy Hook landed two each, and Ezel garnered one spot.

The All-Tourney Team

Salyers (Oil Springs).
Bradley (Oil Springs).
Womack (Oil Springs).
Blair (Morgan Co.).
May (Morgan Co.).
Stacy (Morgan Co.).
Collinsworth (Salyersville).
Pack (Salyersville).
Adkins (Sandy Hook).
Oliver (Sandy Hook).
Leach (Ezel).
Conley won the foul shot trophy by hitting 11 of 11 free throws.

FORMER SHERIFF DIES

BODY OF MISSING MAN IS FOUND ON HILL NEAR HOME

Henry Watkins, 63,
Had Been Missing
About Four Weeks

Henry Watkins, 63, was found dead Thursday afternoon about 2 o'clock about a mile from West Liberty. He had lived alone for a number of years in a small cabin home just below West Liberty belonging to George Spurlock.

He had not been seen for about a month and some mail had accumulated at the post office for him.

Police Chief Jeff Williams, Roland Stacy and a group of men went to the home Thursday and opened the door and found his belongings all there.

About noon a posse formed and began the search for him. Back of the house there is a path running up the cliff and into the woods and top of the ridge where he would go to cut wood. Following the lead, Cotton Allen, Ernest May, John Helton and Guy Helton found him lying in a path on top of the hill. Found at his side were an ax and a pole of wood he had cut and dragged for a short distance.

Judge Reed Halsey, who also helped in the search, said that he had probably been dead for at least a month.

Found on the body was $600 in $20 bills and two cents.

He has a son Ed in the Army and two daughters, Mrs. Recil Sargent of Blaine and Mrs. Junior Holbrook of Dayton, and a sister, Mrs. Wiley Ferguson of West Liberty.

The body was brought to the West Liberty Funeral Home to prepare for burial.

Morgan Per Capita Income Was $504 For the Year 1952

Per capita income in Morgan county during the year of 1952 has been placed at $504 in a report just published by the University of Kentucky's Bureau of Business Research.

Based on a population of 14,000, Morgan county's income for 1952 was estimated at $7,056,000. The 1952 county per capita income (total income divided by total population) in Kentucky, as estimated by this report, varied from a low of $360 in Martin county to a high of $1,955 in McCracken county.

According to the report, the range of per capita income among Kentucky counties was much greater than the range among the states. In 1952 the per capita income figure for the state of Kentucky was $1,130 as compared to $1,639 for the United States.

While per capita income in the whole country rose from $839 in 1951 to $1,130 in 1952, that of Kentucky doubled. But, the report also shows that in 1952 there were 53 counties in the state that had a lower purchasing power per capita than did the nation as a whole in 1953.

Of a total of 101 deaths in Morgan during 1953, 37 were caused by heart diseases, 12 by cancer and 9 by cerebral hemorrhages. The death rate from heart diseases for Morgan was 249.4 persons per 100,000 population as compared to 290.8 for all of Kentucky. Thus the death rate from this disease is lower than state average. The cancer death rate in Morgan was 80.9 persons per 100,000 population as compared to 112.4 for the state.

HOUSE PASSES NEW DOG BILL

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 10—After a lot of serious debate and just as much dog play, the House yesterday passed 55-32 and sent to the Senate the bill of Rep. W. L. Jones requiring the licensing of all dogs at $1.50 each and the inoculation of all dogs against rabies at $1.50 per shot.

The bill appropriates $30,000 to the State Board of Health to enforce the law and directs that county fiscal courts be required to establish dog pounds by July 1, 1955.

Jones' bill, a compromise of one wanted by the State Board of Health and another by Majority Leader Harry K. Lowman, Ashland, eliminates a $1 bounty to any peace officer who kills a stray dog, but would empower any peace officer to kill a stray between sunrise and sunset.

The bill, its proponents said, would not only protect humans against rabies but also would protect sheep and livestock against mauling dogs.

REVIVAL TO BEGIN AT CHURCH OF GOD

Rev. Newton, evangelist from Irvine, will begin a revival Sunday night at the West Liberty Church of God. Everyone is invited to hear these messages. Services will begin each night at 7 o'clock.

Improved mail boxes and roadside beautification will be encouraged this year by the Adair county extension advisory committee.

There are 4,322 DAR's in Kentucky, a gain of 70 last year.

PLAN VOTE ON SEWER SYSTEM

After further discussing a proposal to build a sewage disposal system for West Liberty, the city council at its meeting Monday night instructed City Attorney J. Blaine Nickell to contact bonding companies interested in purchasing revenue bonds and to work up estimates of the cost of such a system.

When this information is secured, the council proposes to conduct a vote on the question to determine if the citizens of the town favor construction of the system.

The vote will not be binding legally but the council wants to know the opinions of townspeople before it proceeds with the project.

The vote, it was agreed, will not be conducted at voting places but will be conducted by mailing a post card question to residents of the town.

OIL BOOM SEEN AS RESULT OF NEW PRODUCER

Drillers To Test
New Well 12th;
Result Watched

Two oil tanks have been hauled in and set up and drillers are now getting ready to pump and test the oil well brought in two weeks ago on the lease owned by Custer Jones on the Oscar Bolen farm southwest of Cannel City on Lunge Fork.

The well is 2,095 feet deep and oil has risen in the hole to within 200 feet of the top.

Workmen were running the tubing and rods Thursday and it was expected they would commence pumping Friday from the beam of the drilling rig.

Wide interest has been created by the new well and representatives from several companies are here to learn the result of the test when pumping starts. Most observers predict the well will produce from 50 to 100 barrels daily.

Owners of the well say it may not be necessary to shoot the well, but they have tentatively decided that if they do shoot it they will use the new Hydro-Frax process developed by Dow Chemical Company.

The Hydro-Frax process does not use explosives. Instead silica particles are forced into the pay dirt under pressure, opening pores through the rock to let the oil run into the hole.

Second Well Located

Meanwhile, George Finch of Insko and his associates have bulldozed a location for a second well on the lease about 1500 feet northwest of the present producer. Mr. Finch is the drilling contractor and owns a working interest in the company developing the lease. His associates are Dr. Earl Arnett and Dr. Robert Circle of Prestonsburg, Dr. J. J. Sherman and Dr. Taylor Martin of Martin, Dr. Gates Wayburn of Huntington and Lloyd M. Finch of Middletown.

Production is from 12 feet of the Cannel City sand, a strata that lies atop the carboniferous. The sand ordinarily is from 14 to 17 feet thick.

Meanwhile, trading in leases in that area has commenced and some leaseholders are preparing to test their acreage by drilling wells at once.

In addition to the second well to be spudded in soon on the Custer Jones tract, Epperson and Holbrook plan to drill a second well on the Squire Nickell lease nearby, and three Huntington men, J. J. Hatcher, Dr. Claude Frazier and Dr. L. E. Farnsworth have made a location on the J. T. Day farm on the Wolfe county side of the Pilot Knob southwest of the new well.

Slate Rice, who owns considerable acreage in the area, also is preparing to drill a well. It was reported here Thursday that he had sold a half interest in his leases in that section to J. J. Hatcher of Huntington.

Also, it was reported this week that Earl Williams had been contracted to drill well of a block of 800 acres near the head of Lower Sand Lick in the eastern section of Morgan. He will start spudding in Monday.

Outside Men Interested

Three independent oil operators from Illinois visited the new field southwest on Cannel City Tuesday and made hurried tests for oil with one of the new radar instruments. They were accompanied by Custer Jones, owner of the mineral and oil rights where the new well was drilled two weeks ago, and Edward Holbrook who owns considerable acreage nearby.

The three independent operators were Blanchell A. Murrelle and Frank Henigman of Chicago and D. E. Predenhausen of Paris, Ill.

They tested the area from near the mouth of Day Branch in Wolfe county northward to near Cannel City along the structural fault that is generally believed to contain oil pools.

The trio told Messrs. Jones and Holbrook their radar detector showed light oil on Day Branch, increasing in density as they proceeded northeastward toward the Pilot Knob and that the oil runs on to near Cannel City.

Their radar detector, it was pointed out by oil and gas men, generally confirmed the predictions made earlier by a geologist of another large oil company, who had told local men and Huntington interests that underground

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

By Ann Franklyn Stevens
Home Demonstration Agent
Housewives Advised To Use Milk Freely

Milk is one of the best food investments a housewife can make, according to Miss Ann Franklyn Stevens, Morgan County Home Demonstration Agent with the University of Kentucky. It is so important in food value that from one-fifth to one-third of the money spent for food should be spent for milk and its products. The use of non-fat dry milk is an excellent way to supply the essentials it supplies at low cost, she pointed out.

Every member of the family should have milk in his daily diet. It promotes growth in children and health in adults. It is the outstanding source of calcium and riboflavin, and is rich in animal protein. Children should have from three to four glasses a day, and grown-ups, at least two glasses. Expectant and nursing mothers need at least a quart of milk a day.

A survey conducted by the government shows that farm families who do not have milk cows generally use small amounts of milk, and families without children use less than where children are present. Low-income families generally use less than those with high incomes, yet they need milk more as diets are limited.

Women over 40 have been found to be very remiss in their use of milk, consuming as a group less than men, teen-agers, or children. Contrary to common belief, milk is not fattening.

The surest way to get the milk needed is to drink it, but it can be eaten in puddings, creamed soups, creamed vegetables, and ice cream. About two or three average servings of milk dishes can be counted as a glassful. Milk may also be eaten in the form of cheese. A cube about 1 and one-fourth inches in size will just about make up for a glass of milk in the calcium and protein it supplies.

LACY CREEK 4-H CLUB

The pride of Lacy Creek school and the community itself is the local 4-H club. An organization of eight years, it boasts serving thirty-five youngsters besides the indirect training the adults of the community and non-member children have derived from it.

During these eight years the club has been the recipient of the Kentucky and West Virginia Power Company's $10.00 award for the best club in the county seven times and the second prize of $5.00 once.

The club now has eleven members carrying 24 projects. At present practically every garment of clothing in the nine sewing projects are ready for Style Revue in April.

Local leaders are Mr. and Mrs. Victor Conley, Marie Henry, Franklin, deserves much credit for being the beginning leader who gave this club a good start. Shirley McGuire is president, Louise McGuire is secretary and treasurer, and Sue Wright is reporter.

Each year the club takes a tour to a park or other place of interest in the state. Among these have been a picnic at Carter Caves and tour of the caves, a tour of the Blue Grass region and outings at Natural Bridge and others.

Everyone believes that Lacy Creek is and will be a better place to live with better trained citizens because of the functions of the active 4-H club and the grand cooperation of the community as a whole.

The community and club are much indebted to the county and home agents for their efficient leadership in this work. It can be said of the people who so liberally give of their talents to make young boys and girls become better qualified to meet the problems of life ahead, that the world is better off by their having lived in it.

THE T.B. BILL NEEDS AMENDING

Not an Eastern Kentucky representative arose in the House to oppose the Administration's bill that makes it a crime to have communicable tuberculosis and imposes a fine up to $500 and imprisonment up to six months for those so adjudged. Yet the proponents of the bill said when they introduced the measure it was aimed primarily at Eastern Kentuckians. Harry King Lowman of Ashland, majority leader, introduced the bill which had the support of the State Health Department. However, the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association had not endorsed the act. Neither had the Kentucky Mountain Club which has done so much in recent years to help eradicate t.b.

Two West Kentucky Representatives and one from Newport fought the bill in vigorous speeches, but no Eastern Kentuckian arose to assist them. The bill passed 55-20.

Chief reason for many thoughtful people opposing the act is that there are more than 7,500 cases of t.b. in Kentucky while there are only 1,600 hospital beds for t.b. patients.

Where will those who are forcibly isolated be confined? Lowman, who introduced the bill, said the State Health Department would have the duty to find "sufficient space." But he did not say whether that space would be in jails or hospitals. The State's t.b. hospitals already are full and have long waiting lists. And the bill appropriates only $10,000 to carry out its provisions. Are t.b. patients to be imprisoned without adequate medical and nursing care?

There should be some Eastern Kentucky Senator with sufficient regard for his home people and sufficient courage to lead a fight when the bill comes to the Senate to amend it by inserting a provision that the act should not become effective until sufficient beds in regularly approved tuberculosis hospitals are provided to take care of those forcibly isolated. Does Eastern Kentucky have no representative in the Legislature who will fight for their home people?

A GOOD AND A BAD FEATURE OF WEST LIBERTY

Morgan county's death rate for 1953 is considerably lower than the State's average, according to the annual vital statistics report released this week by the State Health Department. The State death rate last year was 290.8 persons per 100,000 population while Morgan's 101 deaths are equal to only 249.4 deaths per 100,000 population.

It is also heartening to know that deaths in Morgan from the three most potent killers—heart diseases, cancer and cerebral hemorrhages—are lower than the State average.

But it is significant that only in whooping cough, measles, intestinal enteritis (dysentery), maternal causes and diabetes is Morgan's death rate higher than the State averages. Four of these five diseases are the fifth borne diseases caused by bacteria and viruses. Which prompts thoughtful citizens to wonder what the lack of a proper sewage disposal system in West Liberty is costing our citizens in illnesses and deaths.

If Morgan's death rate from the usual most potent killers is below State average, why can't West Liberty keep its deaths from preventable diseases below average—at least, down to the State average?

Inadequate sewage disposal, overflowing cess pools and mauling dogs and cats that infest cess-pool seepage and then play with our children—are these not potent dangers in our midst, more deadly than drunken drivers, crazed drunks and such like. Are we less concerned about this potent threat to our health and lives simply because the killing bacteria and viruses do their work more insidiously than the overt acts of outlaws? Did we but know the actual distress and loss of lives that inadequate sewage disposal is causing, we would rise up in arms and fight the menace.

WHO WILL BELL THE CAT?

Power, when rightfully used, is a force that can bring living from chaos, surely from insecurity and liberty from monarchy. It is a thing that when placed in the hands of a sincere, democratic and peace-loving people can bring harmony and peace of mind to nations, states, and individuals. Power can be magnificent when it is attuned to gainful purposes—but what deplorable fiasco when power is blasphemed by tyranny and despotism.

Americans today are faced with McCarthyism—a force that if allowed to continue, might in all probability deprive, by taking advantage of the freedoms-of, Americans of many of these freedoms.

Far-sighted individuals would do well to scan the situation with the heart. For having created dissension in Democrat ranks—no one has forgotten the fabricated charges in the Tidings farce or the sensationalism in the White-Brown-ell-Truman comedy—McCarthy seems bent on disrupting, and thereby weakening the Administration, apparently in preparation for the coup de grace that will cause complete surrender of party to power. The London Time's correspondent who labeled the McCarthy-Stevens issue a move in which the Army surrendered to McCarthy, knew what he was talking about.

The McCarthy investigations have taken on a bi-partisan trend of late. What once was expected to be a tool to defeat Democratic political opponents, has reversed ends, and the hammer has descended upon Republican quarters with such force that the powers-in-power are aghast at the scratching claws of a power that might tear asunder a party that has taken such pains to get where it is.

McCarthyism up to now had left the Republicans with little choice. As long as the hitting end of the hammer was turned Democrat-wise, it was well to adopt a hands-off policy. But the recent reversals of investigational trends brings up the question: to what party does McCarthy belong? It might be now that even Republicans believe it is time to curb the communistic-caterwauling.

To some members of the administration the McCarthy expositions are being used to some advantage. For while TV floodlights burn and the star performer fiddles, communistic aggression in southeast Asia is almost a mute subject, while the country is reading sensational headlines, relative to investigations, unemployment in the United States is reaching tremendous proportions, and the soft-spoken word, recession, is rapidly turning into soup lines that could reach to the White House door.

Until a more fitting manner is found in which to conduct investigations, it might be well to refocus our attention, and financial support, from a sower of discord, whose seeds have yet to produce a crop of communists among us, to problems of vital importance, that have grown without benefit of strongly fertilized statements. Admiring the ends of McCarthyism does not mean an admiration of the means used to attain these ends.

We are against communists or any subversives in America, but we deplore the—should we be so frank as to say—communistic methods being used to ferret out these subversives. No individual in America should be unjustly maligned, mistreated, insulted.

Investigations are sometimes necessary in all things, but they should be carried out in a manner that would serve the purpose intended, not in an unrestrained emotional display that has failed to indict even one communist, but has admirably succeeded in undermining the morale of Americans. Under the theory that nothing is sacred, charges continue to be hurled, making sure that right wing conservatives know each and every move of left wing liberals, however innocent the liberal-minded may be.

It is not a fear that communistic sympathies will be exposed that keeps liberals from speaking out against McCarthyism, but the certainty that if they attack "Joe", he will begin his smear tactics. They know that no one, especially a politician, once accused of being a communist harbinger, can ever hope to rise above such an accusation.

If the tomcat is allowed to continue his strutting, it may be assumed that individual liberty, not counting the whole of a nation is imperiled. Thus the one who would save America from McCarthyism will be a brave one indeed, one who will put country's welfare above personal gain. America stands ready for such a brave one to bell the cat. Who will bell the cat?

• IN OL' MORGAN

heart has its private pages, and no life is really an open book. "This quote from George M. Ellington was found in the letters to the editor of a small weekly paper, The Licking Valley Courier in West Liberty, Ky. It is a lovely passage deserving of a wider audience. Some of our best classic lines are hidden away on the inner pages of small publications.

"Webster says classic means 'time-tested literary work of distinction.' That quotation could be called time-tested because it is true of all ages of humanity. And it rates distinction, surely, for its powers to make one think.

"1953 is a memory. It is past history and will be recorded as such. Great inventions, political issues, world events—all these will be written in our history books and encyclopedias. But the days of sadness and the days of joy will be registered in the individual heart, as are all memories.

"This is the first reference I have seen to the human heart as a calendar, or as having pages, but it is an apt description. Every person marks time by events that interest or concern him as an individual—this, the heart's calendar records its own birthdays."

IS AN OIL BOOM SHAPING?

Morgan counties have seen other "oil booms" fizzle out in the past and thus many of us are not too enthusiastic over the prospects of a boom in the area around the Custer Jones well brought in two weeks ago south-west of Cannel City. However, there have been some big changes in the oil production business in recent years.

It must be noted that it no longer is necessary to drill big-producing wells to make drilling profitable. A number of small wells, properly managed, can be made rich producers by the new water repressuring system where-in water is forced under pressure into one well to push out the oil in other wells. This method now recovers practically all the oil in a strata instead of only what ran into the well under the old system.

Also the new Hydra-Frax process of "shooting" a well is more reliable than nitroglycerine or gelatin and seems to open the pay dirt better so as to allow the oil to run into the drilled hole.

Low-producing wells in a proven territory or leases near a proven area now are nearly as desirable as large producers, providing they are in a block and suitable for repressuring. Certainly, they are more desirable than "wildcat" territory. Thus, the new oil operators are seeking blocks of low-producing wells and leases on areas near old wells that have petered out. That is why the spur south of the old Cannel City field looks so good to oil men.

Too, oil now is bringing around $3 a barrel. Moreover many Texas, Oklahoma, Montana and Illinois oil men, grown rich in exploratory work there, are moving to other fields because state laws limit production in their states much as our tobacco program limits productions here. But, they want proven territory or around the fringe of proven territory. It appears now that considerable outside money will be available to test out the new field around Cannel City. Pilot Knob and Sellers.

We have run across a fine success story of a Morgan county girl who has made good in the banking business.

Several years ago while a student at Cannel City high school, Miss Orna Zornes began helping Custer Jones, cashier of Morgan

County National Bank at Cannel City. Orna did such minor jobs as getting the mail. After her graduation at Cannel City, Mr. Jones hired her as bank clerk, and she later advanced to the position of cashier. Mr. Jones said this week she "knew banking in all its phases by experience."

Recently Miss Zornes was made assistant cashier of the Peoples Bank at Hazard, a nine million dollar banking institution.

She is a first cousin to Dr. Alec Spencer of West Liberty. She has two sisters and a brother who live at Winchester, Mrs. Aihlene Carter, Miss Maxine Zornes and James Zornes.

On Feb. 4, 1954, Airman Second Class Henry R. Perkins who was discharged as a sergeant last September, was forwarded a Soldier's Medal for Valor with the following order:

"On Dec. 4, 1951, at Okinawa, Airman Perkins observed the crash of a bomb-laden B-29 type aircraft immediately after take off. Without hesitation he rushed to the scene of the crash to effect the removal of injured crew members to a medical unit. Although Airman Perkins realized that the aircraft was loaded with bombs, live ammunition and gasoline, he completely disregarded these hazards in order to remove the injured personnel. Even after he suffered laceration, bruises and shock from concussion when he was thrown to the ground from explosion of bombs he continued the rescue attempt. Through his high courage in the face of great personal risk and by his devotion to duty beyond the normal call, Airman Perkins reflected great credit upon himself, the Far East Force, Air Forces and the United States Air Force.—Signed by order of the commander, Owen F. Gent, Major USAF; K. P. McNaughton, Major General."

Perkins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Perkins of Insko and a brother to Betty Perkins who teaches at Cannel City. He was graduated from Cannel City high at 18 and in 1950 volunteered in the Army. His training was at a Texas air base.

MORE ABOUT THE 1874 SNOW

(By R. H. Ferguson, Dingus)

To corroborate the statement of Mr. Perry and I in last week's Courier concerning the snow on May 19, 1874, M. F. Trimble has a vivid recollection. Mr. Trimble was an overnight guest at our home on that night, and he and I being candidates for matrimony, left on Sunday morning for church at Fairview school house at the head of Middlefork. Mr. Trimble was a Republican at that time, and we saw Uncle Bill Smith while going up Middle Fork who also was a Republican. So Mr. Trimble said to Mr. Smith: "They can't say this was under a Republican administration."

M. C. Bradley of West Liberty, a former resident of Dingus and for quite a while an efficient notary public in process of time it came to pass that a certain lady not knowing the title of his office and desiring him to notarize some papers, said, "Mr. Bradley, are you a notorious Republican?" Mr. Bradley, without hesitation, said, "No, indeed. I'll let you know I am a Democrat."

THE FISH GOT AWAY

Earl May returned Saturday from Brooksville, Florida where he had been at The Oaks Motor Court since January 5. When interviewed by the fishing editor he said: "I fished plenty. Curt Lewis of Rowan county and I were fishing. A bass got hold of my hook. I finally got it to the boat where it broke loose just as Curt snapped a picture. When developed the picture weighed ten pounds." We did not get to see the picture and will hold up the story until Earl brings it in.

TEACHERS MEET AT MIZE FRIDAY

A district conference of teachers was held at Mize Friday and topics on improvement of education such as attendance, the minimum foundation program for education in Kentucky, promotions and the school fair were discussed.

Supt. Carl Stewart explained that the new program would not go into effect this year and that a working of the program would probably be tried out over the next two years. He thought there would be an increase in funds available. However, as to how much, if any, Morgan county will receive is not known.

Walton Jones, attendance supervisor, stated that the basic problem is attendance and that it is a problem for every teacher, patron and school official to help. Avonell Kinner presided and led the discussions, assisted by Melda Fairchild and Byron Lewis.

It was the general opinion of the group that a revision should be made in exhibits and plans for the school fair.

Teachers brought dishes of food and all enjoyed a lunch very much.

Singing was led by Mrs. E. R. Hemphill, and Rev. Hemphill spoke on the spiritual and moral value of education which in reality is a philosophy of life.

The following teachers attended: Bernice Henry, Byron Lewis, Eva May, Irene Terrill, Eugene Manning, Eliza Motley, Opal Helton, Malva Stacy, Ruby McKinney, Irene Honn, Gladys Nickell, Avonell Kinner, Iva Stevens, Nova Robertson, Mildred Chaney, Mildred Wilbur. Others attending were Bernard Whitt and Melda Fairchild.

Former Morgan Man Succumbs In Illinois

Charlie Scott Little, 77, of Bushton, Illinois, died Feb. 25 at his home following several weeks illness.

Mr. Little was born Feb. 11, 1877 at White Oak, son of the late W. B. and Phoebe Nickell Little. He married Mrs. Flora Sence of Bushton, Ill. Dec. 28, 1937.

Besides his wife he is survived by two brothers, Mack Little of Charleston, Ill. and O. B. Little of Malone; two sisters, Mrs. John G. Arnett of Salyersville and Mrs. Fleta Lacy of White Oak; a stepdaughter, Mrs. R. L. Slaughter of Frankfort, Ind., and stepson, Bert Spencer, of Charleston, Ill., several stepgrandchildren and many nieces and nephews. Two sisters preceded him in death: Mrs. Bob McClure of Charleston, Ill. and Mrs. Coon Al'n, White Oak.

He lived with his mother until he married and was engaged in farming. He helped to rear two of his sister's children, Mrs. Clay Elam of Pleasant Plain, Ohio, and Robert McClure of Tulsa, Okla.

A member of the Christian church, he was superintendent of the Sunday school for many years and active in all church work.

Mr. Little went to Bushton, Ill. when he married and he and his wife owned and operated a grocery store until a year ago.

Funeral was held at the Bushton Christian church and burial was in Roselaw cemetery at Charleston.

Half-ton beauty with a two-ton punch

Sure, its sleek lines, full-width grille and panoramic windshield are handsomely un-trucklike.

There's the same dashing air about the inside, too. Three-passenger roominess. Two-tone color treatment. Harmonizing, supple-as-leather upholstery. Smart instrument panel, with dials clustered for instant visibility through a tri-spoke wheel.

But mister—take another look!

A burly, brawny brute of an engine—a real truck engine—makes you think of a Miss America who also can bend horseshoes. One hundred and twenty-five horsepower guarantees that this beauty can heft a top load with more ease and dash than you've ever seen before.

That's more power than some makers pack into their two-ton models. That's more usable power than in any other 6-cylinder engine in its class!

And look at that wide, deep box. It holds at least 8 cubic feet more than even the roomy '53 model. That tail gate isn't only grain-tight—it's sand-tight.

Finally, to top it off, it offers Truck Hydra-Matic Drive*—the supreme automatic shift that saves you, saves your cash, saves your time.

(Note to those who want the look of luxury in a truck: there's a DE LUXE model at extra cost, with chrome grille and trim, two-tone paint, curved rear corner windows—the works!)

Come in and drive this great GMC. It will do all the selling—by itself.

*Truck Hydra-Matic Drive standard on some models, optional at extra cost on others.

OBITUARY

IN MEMORY OF MARIE LITTERAL DAY

The name Marie echoes sweetly from the past and brings a radiant and glorious thought for the future. Marie's life on earth with us was like the coming and going of the rose of summer—continuing such a short time. Though people's lives are never measured by the length of time they stay on the earth, rather they are measured by the things accomplished while they were on the earth. Marie taught us how to love and be loved by her kindness toward everyone. To me, her mother, her presence made life much more worthwhile. She was a true pal at home or abroad and her letters were always spots of brightness in the mail.

The leaves of the great oak shall lie together and moulder away in the dust and often from the ground or some mysterious place, we hear in tones of thunder the echo of Marie's voice, saying, My dear loved ones, the hand of death took me away from you, but I loved you to the end and don't forget that just a few days ago I lived like you are now living, felt happy and tried to make life brighter for you, but now I am only hid from mortal view.

Her tiny infant that she left on earth is a rosebud; to us it is like the fragrance of the blooming rose that remains after it has faded and gone. Her child has a good home with its grandparents and gets the best of care, but none of us will ever be able to take the place of the tender hand of such a kind mother, and it will miss much in life to never know or see the features of such a lovely girl.

Marie has only now been gone one year. She left us during the springtime when the earth is adorned with so much of its beauty. She so silently without fear stepped out of our sight. How much we miss her mortal tongue can never tell, but that fair face, those tender hands, kind words and angelic form we, her dad, mother, brother and sisters, can never forget, though she has left our sight and passed into the shadow of death. Still a thousand sweet memories are lingering in our hearts and memories of such a dear child and sister will continue with us until we too shall follow after her and enter into the silent chambers of Death. Dad, Mother, Brother and Sisters.

OIL BOOM

structures as revealed in logs of old wells indicated good oil strata in that area.

Both the geologists and the Chicago technicians said the oil bearing strata was quite narrow, not over 3,000 feet at its widest place, but that it ran in a northeast-southwest direction over a long area.

Other oil and gas men who have been here since the new well was drilled are representatives of the Petroleum Exploration Company, United Fuel Gas Company, Ashland Oil & Refining Co., Crate Rice of Paintsville, J. J. Hatcher, Dr. Claude Frazier and Dr. L. E. Farnsworth and J. J. Ross, all of Huntington.

Ezel 4-H Club Is Proud Of Honors

The Ezel 4-H club is justly proud of the honors its members have won. They feel fortunate to have had some fine members of the Ezel faculty serve as leaders for the club, including Thomas Moore and Miss Ann Hochstetler. They appreciate the service of Mrs. C. S. Jackson as project and assistant leader. The boys have the services of Mr. Jackson and Mr. Everett Nickell as project leaders. Miss Anna Henry is serving as a junior leader and is helping with the projects this year when the club has been unable to have a faculty leader.

Last year the club members won many honors. Linda Lou Jackson was the county champion in the dairy and room improvement projects and was the district champion in room improvement. Anna Henry was the county demonstration winner and the winner in junior leadership. Ruth Rowland was county champion in poultry. Linda Rowland was the swine champion. Loretta Nickell was the winner in corn. Anna Henry represented the club and the county at 4-H Week at Lexington for the second time. Four boys had beef calves in the county fair and at the Maysville district show.

Officers of the Ezel club are as follows: President, Anna Henry; vice-president, Barbara Cecil; secretary, Mary Jo Stamper; Song and game leaders, Linda Jackson and Bertie Fugate.

The club was represented at County Rally Day by Mrs. Jackson and ten members. Ella Gay Vest won the girls speaking championship. Our club is planning to have a part in the county Talent show, March 26, the Style Revue, April 7, and send a big delegation to district camp in July. Arnold Binion, 37, who resided near the Rowan-Morgan-Elliott line, died Feb. 2 at Frankfort of a heart attack. He was the son of the late Lester and Deltha Skaggs Binion.

Birthday of Mrs. Carter Observed With Open House In Florida Home

Mrs. L. Y. Redwine of Fort Myers, Florida, held open house on February 1 for the birthday of her mother, Mrs. B. F. Carter. Many guests attended during the afternoon. Punch and cake were served by Mrs. Norman McDaniel, close friend of Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Redwine. Many gifts were given.

A color scheme of lavender and smethyat was used throughout the receiving rooms, as Mrs. Carter was married in those same colors and has worn them all during her life. The candles were lavender and lavender gladiolas were used in the living and dining rooms. Mrs. Carter wore an arthysy color dress with an orchid. She looked charming and alert as she greeted her many friends, considering a recent serious illness.

Mrs. Carter is the oldest living person who was born in West Liberty and perhaps knows more of the town's early history than any one else.

Among guests were Mrs. Hattie Cole Baldwin of Ft. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Rear and Mr. and Mrs. William Schrubbs of Frankfort, Ky., and Mrs. Hattie Hazelegg Pollock of Umatilla, Fla.

For the occasion, a picture of Judge Ed. C. O'Rear, another Morgan county historian, was centered on the mantle with a candle. Mrs. Carter and the Judge's birthdays are on the 1st and 2nd of February.

After dinner, Mrs. Carter gave some readings, and many happenings of the past were discussed. Colored movies were taken of the patio fish pond and flower garden. Mrs. Carter is much improved since her recent illness and sends best wishes to her Morgan county friends.

Before her marriage to B. F. Carter in Maysville Christian church Oct. 24, 1878, Mrs. Carter was Miss Nettie Naomi Filson, a direct descendant of John Filson who wrote the first history of Kentucky and made the first map of Kentucky.

When the couple reached West Liberty, they were greeted by a crowd of 300 townspeople and relatives, gathered for the "en-fare." Said Mrs. Carter when she saw the dining room at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Carter, "I'll never forget the sight when we entered the dining room and living room where tables were made into a cross and were heavily laden with everything you could think of. The cakes were decorated with white lilies made out of icing, and the house was decorated with wild grasses that had been crystallized with alum. A beautiful sight to behold."

Mrs. Carter's husband, the late Dr. B. F. Carter, was a graduate of the old Hospital College of Medicine, Louisville, Ky. and she worked side by side with him during his 52 years practice in Morgan and adjacent counties.

For many years Mrs. Carter's hobbies have been flowers and poetry. Besides her daughter, she has a son, Sam Filson Carter of Ft. Myers, six grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Members of Utopia clubs in Gallatin county have been attending short course in farm and home management.

FROM YOUR HEALTH DEPT.

A child with a hearing loss may have speech difficulty or his school performance and activities may drop below normal. Della Kinner, Public Health Nurse of the Morgan County Health Department says, "Hearing losses just don't happen." Mrs. Kinner added, but may be the result of middle ear infections following colds, enlarged tonsils and adenoids or may occur after such diseases as measles, mumps or whooping cough.

Often the loss of hearing is just in one ear, or only part of the hearing may be affected. It is very difficult to detect hearing losses by just talking to a child. Many schools and P.T.A.'s in the state have launched hearing detection programs with the assistance of local health departments and the Auditory Health Section, Division of School Health, Kentucky State Department of Health.

If a hearing loss is found early, it can usually be corrected before the loss becomes more serious or total deafness results.

Protecting children against the communicable diseases is one way to prevent hearing losses. Consult your family physician if your child has an earache, a "stopped up" ear or a buzzing in an ear. And, also see your physician for severe colds, for nose and throat infections and for enlarged tonsils and adenoids that may lead to hearing difficulty.

Pamphlets entitled "Earaches" and "A Hearing Health Program for Parents" are available from the Morgan County Health Department.
